ABSTRACT

Made up of two volumes, this bibliography covers masters and doctoral theses and dissertations in health education. Volume II covers the period through 1969, and Volume III the period from 1970-72. The majority of the 820 entries contain the following information: author, title, degree received, date study accepted and/or degree received, advisor's name, and institution granting the degree. Topics covered include: community and public health, curriculum, driver education, drug education and abuse, environmental health, evaluation and evaluative instruments, fitness, health careers, health instruction, physical education, history of health education, mental health, nutrition and weight control, personal health, professional preparation, safety education, school and college health services, and sex education. Approximately 575 studies are included in the compilation, and cross-referencing is provided. (DS)

PREFACE

This Topical List of Theses and Dissertations in Health Education, Volume II, has been "in the hopper" for several years. It is a follow-up and companion volume to the original publication with the same title printed in 1970 by the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. Volume II follows the same format used in the initial publication (which hereafter shall be referred to as "Volume I") with one exception: Volume II is cross-referenced. Specifically, Volume II is a cross-referenced listing of theses and dissertations devoted primarily to school health education which have been written through 1969 and were not included in Volume I.

In no way does this publication overlap with Health Education Completed Research published by AAHPER in 1974. This latter 1974 publication focuses on the 1970-72 theses and dissertations (total of 312) completed within 40 institutions granting graduate degrees in health education and includes abstracts for a majority of them.

Many possible sources have been tapped to procure the items included in this Volume II. It became obvious following the publication of Volume I that school health education research was being done in many institutions of higher education and that the selected sources used for Volume I did not reveal its extensiveness. Thus, this search began. The four primary sources in which the majority of these entries were found are: Completed Research in Health, Physical Education and Recreation, Volumes 1 through 12; Health, Physical Education and Recreation Microform Publication Bulletins, Volumes 1 and 2; Dissertation Abstracts, Volume 20 through Volume 29; and Master's Theses in Education, Volume 10 through Volume 19. The latter, which was not a Volume I source, provided many items for Volume II.

The authors do not claim that every piece of research concerning school health education written approximately within the years 1960 through 1969 has been located. This Volume II plus Volume I, however, should be very helpful in locating many of the published studies for this era.

The majority of the entries in this publication contain these six pieces of information: (1) Author, (2) Title, (3) Degree received, (4) Date study accepted and/or degree received, (5) Advisor's name, and (6) Institution granting the degree. Extensive efforts have been made by the authors to obtain the total and correct information from either the appropriate department or library of the degree granting institution. In a few instances some specifics were impossible to obtain.

Approximately 575 studies are included in this compilation; with the use of cross-referencing, this involves approximately 820 different entries. There are 27 categories or topics into which the entries have been placed. If the study is cross-referenced, it usually is placed within only two topical areas. Some studies are not cross-referenced at all. For clarification and expediency in finding specific studies, the studies are arranged alphabetically by author within each topic. Prior to use of this publication, a careful perusal of the Topical Listing (which is presented in alphabetical order) may be helpful in understanding the arrangement of the topics and sub-topics. For example, the major topic "Health Instruction" has been divided into five areas (General, Materials, and Resources, Methods and Techniques, Misconceptions, and Needs and Interests).

To assist the reader in obtaining further information regarding a particular study, the source of most entries can be identified. Titles appearing in the Health, Physical Education and Recreation Microform Publications Bulletins have been so designated by including the word "Micro" in parentheses following the item. Further information regarding such microform publications may be obtained from Microform Publications, College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, University of Oregon, Eugene, Oregon 97403.

Those titles which appeared in volumes of Completed Research in H.P.E.R. are indicated by an asterisk (*) following the entry. These volumes are currently published by the American Alliance for H.P.E.R., 1201 Sixteenth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., 20036.

Abstracts for many of the dissertations appearing in this volume that do not have either a designation of "Micro" or an asterisk may be included in Dissertation Abstracts. (Check the Dissertation Abstracts volume at least one year following the date given in this entry.) Information concerning theses not designated by either a "Micro" or an asterisk is probably best obtained directly from the institution which granted the degree.

Many individuals have been helpful in preparing this compilation. Special gratitude is due to Patricia Heaton, James McKenzie, Lynn R. Penland, Jay Segal, and Marina Van der Merwe and as well as Barbara A. Cooley, Tacoma, Washington, past-president of the Association for the Advancement of Health Education, and John H. Cooper, George Mason University and formerly Consultant, AAHE.

PREFACE

This Topical List of Theses and Dissertations in Health Education, Volume III, is the culmination of several years of effort. It is a sequel to the original publication with the same title (hereafter referred to as "Volume I") and its companion volume, also with the same title, "Volume II." Volume I was printed in 1970 by the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. While Volumes I and II listed theses and dissertations devoted to school health education published approximately during the years 1960 through 1969, this Volume III covers the years 1970 through 1972.

Specifically, Volume III is a cross-referenced listing of theses and dissertations devoted primarily to school health education which have been published during the years 1970 through 1972. In no way does this publication overlap with Health Education Completed Research published by AAHPER in 1974. This latter 1974 publication focuses only on the 1970-72 theses and dissertations (total 312) completed within 40 responding institutions granting graduate degrees in health education and includes abstracts for a majority of them. This Volume III lists many studies which should have been included in Health Education Completed Research but were not reported as well as health education studies completed in institutions which do not grant graduate degrees in health education.

It became obvious following the publication of Volume I that school health education research was being done in many institutions of higher education and that the selected sources used for Volume I did not reveal its extensiveness. Many possible sources have been searched to procure the items included in this Volume III. The four primary sources in which the majority of these entries were found are: Completed Research in Health, Physical Education and Recreation, Volumes 13 through 15; Health, Physical Education and Recreation Microform Publication Bulletin, Volume 2; Dissertation Abstracts, Volume 30 through Volume 33; and Master's Theses in Education, Volume 19 through Volume 22. The latter, which was not a Volume I source, provided many items for Volume III as well as Volume II.

The authors do not claim that every piece of research concerning school health education written within the years 1970 through 1972 has been located. This Volume III plus Volumes I and II, however, should be very helpful in locating many of the studies published within the years 1960 through 1972.

The majority of the entries in this publication contain these six pieces of information: (1) Author; (2) Title; (3) Degree received; (4) Date study accepted and/or degree received; (5) Advisor's name; and (6) Institution granting the degree. Extensive efforts have been made by the authors to obtain the total and correct information from either the appropriate department or library of the degree granting institution. In a few instances some specifics were impossible to obtain.

Approximately 500 studies are included in this compilation; with the use of cross-referencing, this involves approximately 750 different entries. There are 27 categories or topics into which the entries have been placed. If the study is cross-referenced, it usually is placed within only two topical areas. Some studies are not cross-referenced at all. For clarification and expediency in finding specific studies, the studies are arranged alphabetically by author within each topic. A careful perusal of the Topical Listing prior to use of this publication may be helpful in understanding the topics and sub-topics and the order of listings. For example, the major topic "Health Instruction" has been divided into five areas (General, Materials and Resources, Methods and Techniques, Misconceptions, and Needs and Interests).

To assist the reader in obtaining further information regarding a particular study, the source of most entries can be identified. Titles appearing in the Health, Physical Education and Recreation Microform Publication Bulletin have been so designated by including the word "Micro" in parentheses following the item. Further information regarding such microform publications may be obtained from Microform Publications, College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, University of Oregon, Eugene, Oregon, 97403.

Those titles which appeared in volumes of Completed Research in H.P.E.R. are indicated by an asterisk (*) following the entry. These volumes are currently published by the American Alliance for H.P.E.R., 1201 Sixteenth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., 20036.

Abstracts for many of the dissertations appearing in this volume that do not have either a designation of "Micro" or an asterisk may be included in Dissertation Abstracts. (Check the Dissertation Abstracts volume at least one year following the date given in this entry.) Information concerning theses not designated by either a "Micro" or an asterisk is probably best obtained directly from the institution which granted the degree.

Many individuals have been helpful in preparing this compilation. Special gratitude is due to Patricia Heaton, James McKenzie, Lynn R. Penland, Jay Segal and Marina van der Merwe as well as Barbara A. Cooley, Tacoma, Washington, past-president of the Association for the Advancement of Health Education, and Benton Clifton, former Executive Director, AAHE.
